Arranging for Trial of German War Lord

(A. P. Spec. Cable.) London, Nov. 25.—The British Government expects the trial of former Emperor William of Germany to begin in London early in the New Year, and is completing necessary arrangements, says the Mail, which adds that as soon as the Allies have ratified the peace treaty, a united request for the surrender of the erstwhile emperor will be presented to Holland. "There is no room for doubt that the request will be complied with," the newspaper says. Ratification of the treaty is confidently expected in a few weeks.

CRIME WILL BE

In Spite of Police and High Wages.

Prior to the meeting of the police commissioners yesterday afternoon, when the matter of police salaries was again taken up, Police Chief W. J. H. Street and City Clerk Kew held a short but rather significant conversation on the salary question, which was of course entirely informal. The chief had made it no secret that he backed the men in their request for an increase. Thus, when he opened fire with "Well, we had another murder on our hands to-day."

JOHNNY KIDS

Lined the Street to See "Them Polies."

A comical thing was observed by a reporter who chanced to be on King William Street behind Lowe's theatre last evening, about 8:30. A group of small boys stood round the fairground stand, just as the scribe passed by, an employee of the theatre, looked out.

HUNGARIAN NEGOTIATE PEACE WITH THE ENTENTE

Supreme Council Gives Roumania and Serbia Another Chance to Sign Treaties.

Responsibility For Delay of Peace Rests With Germany, She Is Warned.

(A. P. Special Cable.) Budapest, Nov. 25.—The Hungarian Government has appointed a peace delegation to negotiate a treaty between the allied powers and Hungary. GIVE ROMANIA A CHANCE. Paris, Nov. 25.—Roumania is to be given another chance to sign the Austrian peace treaty, limited period being named in which it may attach her signature. Permission to sign is also to be given Serbia. The Supreme Council made this decision this morning, at the same time deciding that a protocol be opened on Nov. 27, permitting Roumania to sign the peace treaty with Bulgaria within eight days, this period to apply also to her signature to the treaty of St. Germain with Austria.

A declaration was likewise decided upon to permit Serbia to sign the St. Germain treaty, together with the financial annexes and clause for the protection of racial minorities, of which the Jugo-Slavs have objected.

THE NOTE TO THE GERMAN

Paris, Nov. 25.—Surprise at the departure of Dr. Simson, head of the plenipotentiaries sent by Germany to this city in connection with the peace treaty relative to the carrying out of the terms of the armistice was expressed in a note delivered by Kurt von Lersner, head of the German delegation, by the Supreme Council last night.

If the treaty of Versailles is not put into effect by Dec. 1, the note said, the responsibility will lie with the German Government, as the attitude of Dr. Simson inevitably drew further consequences which must be held by the German Government. It was learned to-day that Lersner sent a letter to Secretary Quast, of the Peace Conference, last Friday, to the effect that the head of the plenipotentiaries had been convinced, after the consultations he had held in Paris, that he must consult the German Government regarding the protocol, especially as the National Assembly would have to approve the decision reached.

The von Lersner letter protested against the question of the repatriation of prisoners again being brought up, and to this effect that the treaty would up lift that of putting the treaty into effect, it being pointed out that the Allied Governments had previously separated these issues. If the promise of France was not kept, the letter declared, German public opinion would not have confidence in any further armistice. France might make the letter, in this connection, drew attention to an article published recently in the French press, the surrender of war criminals.

The delay, said M. Clemenceau, would be regrettable, as it might raise doubts of the sincerity of Germany's intentions as regarded the execution of the engagements made in the armistice and the peace treaty.

CLEAN THEATRES

London Societies to Curb Filthy Shows.

London, Nov. 12.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) The Bishop of London, who has been a good play as much as any, presided at a conference of the theatrical managers, authors, actors and critics. It was held at the invitation of the Lord Chamberlain for the promotion of Public Morality, to consider the means for preventing immoral public performances.

The bishop said the council was in the slightest degree opposed to theatres or music-halls. The people needed entertainment, and the theatre was good for everybody. "But which will degrade them, and which will not?" he asked.

CAPTAIN NEALE WAS ALMOST DEAD

Myron Survivor, When Finally Rescued. Thinks Thirty-Five Men Perished.

(Canadian Press Wire.) Fort William, Ont., Nov. 25.—Captain C. Neale, of the steamer Myron, was rescued yesterday in a state of complete collapse from the floating wreckage of the pilot house of the steamer Myron by the crew of the freighter W. Franz, bound light for Fort William for grain. Blue with the cold, and his clothing torn and ripped by the elements, he was unable to move until he had been taken aboard and revived with stimulants, when he said that he believed himself to be the sole survivor of the Myron, which ran into a tremendous gale near Whitefish Point while towing the barge Mizzac, bound up the lakes for Duluth.

It was early on Saturday that the storm was encountered, and two hours later the Myron began to sink. Pumps were worked to their fullest capacity, but in vain, and the battered wreck broke to pieces, leaving the mangled floating slabs on the pilot house, the sole survivor of the Myron's crew of sixteen, and also, he believed, of the sixteen men aboard the barge Mizzac. Captain Neale was unable to give more than a few details from the exposure of the wreck, being almost dead from the exposure of the water of Lake Superior and from the shock of the wreck.

ASHAMED OF LODGE U. S. Woman Lawyer Talks Bitterly at Montreal.

(A. P. Special Cable.) Berlin, Nov. 24.—German troops in the Baltic region are in a desperate situation, according to reports printed in the Tagblatt. Legions, including several free corps, have collected south of Mitau, and have been fired upon by Lettish forces near Krakus, the enemy advancing from the northeast in an attempt to seize the railroad running from Mitau to Shavli. Five trains were hit, it is said, carrying refugees from Mitau, have been fired upon by Lithuanians. It is said, fifty persons were killed and 150 wounded. Efforts are being made to keep the railroad clear so that the refugees can escape. General in command of the Sixth German Corps has his headquarters at Shavli, west of which city the roads are in control of the Germans. Despatches state that the situation is extraordinarily serious, and in some places desperate. It takes two to make a bargain, in spite of the fact that a man and his wife are one.

DRASTIC CUT IN TRAIN SERVICES

In Effect Saturday, to Save Soft Coal. Chiefly Affect C.N.R. and G.T.R. First.

(Canadian Press Wire.) Montreal, Nov. 25.—Drastic reduction in passenger, and possibly in freight, service on the Canadian railways, on account of the shortage of bituminous coal, were announced to-day as a result of meetings of the railway officials to consider conditions following the strike in the United States. These reductions, so far as announced by the Canadian Railway War Board and the Grand Trunk Railway, will chiefly affect the C. N. R. and the Grand Trunk for the time being, with the possibility that other railways may later on be affected. The reductions will go into effect Saturday, next.

DOC COOK LIED Says Geologists, in Mt. McKinley Boast.

Vancouver, Nov. 25.—H. E. Bodine, who was in charge of the United States survey party which surveyed the coast surrounding Mount McKinley, brings news that their expedition proved conclusively to the experts that the claim of Dr. Cook that he had ascended the mountain, was not founded on facts, that his main camp was at least thirty miles from the foot of the mountain. Two members of the party were amazed when told of Dr. Cook's statement that he had taken a team of well-groomed colts down the glacier if the malnutes had ever set eyes on these nice colts they would have been amazed. The great glacier around the foot of the mountain would make it almost difficult for them on its slopes, let alone do more than that. The members succeeded in getting over Mount McKinley, and are quite satisfied with that accomplishment, and have not tried it since.

SYRIA AND HER NATIONAL ASPIRATIONS.

The most recent report on the development of the Syrian question indicates that the French government is on the one hand and the British government on the other have at last come to an understanding as to the conditions under which the French are to withdraw their troops from the region north of Palestine and the cities of Latakia, Hama, Hama and Aleppo. trade siding with east Britain. The treaty of 1812 between England, France and Russia was a landmark in the history of the world.

But in 1917 the British agreed to their treaty with the sheriff of Mecca and to give the British Empire to the Sultan of Turkey, Aleppo, Hama and Hama. The two treaties were conflicting and the settlement was a disaster.

The British Empire was the most difficult of the most difficult to solve. Great Britain took a firm stand and the British Empire was the most difficult of the most difficult to solve.

The Paris conference agreed upon sending a mixed committee to Syria to find out what the Syrians wished. But France refused to send any delegate. At last two Americans were sent to investigate the Syrian situation. Their report and investigation showed that the majority of the Syrian people desire a united Syria, with that the parties concerned do not have their aim the welfare of the smaller States. They are not so generous in language and habits, but not in action. They are not so anxious to see the Syrians enjoy their independence, the Syrians show favorably. They are not so anxious to see the Syrians free themselves from their own affairs as backed up by a democratic government to assist them in their efforts.

But the desire for expansion on part of certain powers that have more than is stronger than the sentiment of giving other men in high position as a leader. For example, Mr. whatever called upon to appear different from that of our own best leaders, and their own. They are not so anxious to see the Syrians free themselves from their own affairs as backed up by a democratic government to assist them in their efforts.
